

Preliminary program of the 18th International Morphology Meeting (IMM–18)

Budapest, May 10 – 13, 2018,

hosted by:

Research Institute for Linguistics (Hungarian Academy of Sciences)
& Faculty of Humanities (Eötvös Loránd University)

Main session	May 10 – 13
Poster session	May 12, 11:30–13:00
Workshop 1: Models & methods	May 11, 11:30–18:30
Workshop 2: Learnability	May 13, 9:00–17:20
Workshop 3: Uralic & Turkic	May 12, 10:00–18:30

May 10 (Thu)

	Building I – “Bence György” Lecture Hall		Building R5 – Lecture Hall 423
10:30–12:00	registration
12:00–12:20	opening addresses
12:20–13:20	Keynote 1 – Olivier Bonami: Quantitative evidence for paradigm structure
13:20–13:40	B R E A K
13:40–14:10	Chair: Olivier Bonami	Katharina Korecky-Kröll: German adjective gradation on the dialect-standard axis in rural regions of Austria: a phenomenon of high variation between inflection and derivation	Chair: Bernard Fradin	Jan Radimsky: Emerging paradigms in Romance NN compounding
14:10–14:40		Hans-Olav Enger and Helen Sims-Williams: Loss of inflection in North Germanic adjectives – or is it?		Pavel Štichauer: Mixed perfective auxiliations in Italo-Romance: a morphological approach
14:40–15:10		Katinka Rózsa: Problems of un-prefixation in German: Accent and meaning		Francesca Masini, Silvia Micheli: The morphological expression of approximation: the emerging simil- construction in Italian
15:10–15:30	B R E A K
15:30–16:00	Chair: Katharina Korecky-Kröll	Berthold Crysmann: Morphomic paradigm shape without morphomic features: reversals in Twi and Neo-Aramaic	Chair: Michael Ramscar	Géraldine Walther and Claudia Cathomas: Constraints on agreement patterns in Romansh Sursilvan and Tuatschin
16:00–16:30		Florence Villoing: How Creole morphological schemas emerged from inherited word formation paradigms		Sahar Taghipour and Gregory Stump: Person-number marking in Laki verb inflection: Some implications for the interfaces of morphology
16:30–17:00				Tamás Halm: From Possessive Suffix to Affective Demonstrative Suffix in Hungarian: a Grammaticalization Analysis

May 11 (Fri)

	Building I – “Bence György” Lecture Hall		Building R5 – Lecture Hall 423
8:30–9:00	registration
9:00–10:00	Keynote 2 – Marilyn Vihman: Child templates and their relation to productive adult word formation
10:00–10:30	Chair: Hans-Olav Enger	Frederic Isel and Florence Villoing: Role of phonological size properties in French VN compounds: Combined evidence from corpus and neurophysiological data	Chair: Marilyn Vihman	Bernard Fradin: Fragmented yet connected derivational paradigms. The case of French denumerals in -aire
10:30–11:00		Ronit Levie, Hadas Hochman-Rosenstein, Shirley Eitan and Dorit Ravid: Acquiring Semitic verb morphology in different socio-economic contexts: A study in Hebrew-speaking children		Gergana Popova: Deadjectival nominalizations in -ness : mind the gaps
11:00–11:30	B R E A K
11:30–12:00	Chair: Gary Libben	Natalia Cherepovskaia, Natalia Slioussar: L2 acquisition of nominal paradigms in Russian		Petar Milin & James P. Blevins: Measures and mechanisms in morphology
12:00–12:30		Jeff Parker: Paradigmatic Predictability and Processing: An Experimental Investigation of Russian Nouns		Michael Ramscar: The discriminative morphology of naming and the statistical-structure of empirical lexical distributions
12:30–13:00		Ruben van de Vijver, Ágnes Benkő and Vassiliki Tsoun: Paradigms of whole word forms in the mental lexicon		Géraldine Walther & Michael Ramscar: Discriminative models of morphology in human communication systems
13:00–14:30	L U N C H B R E A K
14:30–15:00	Chair: Gregory Stump	Ekaterina Georgieva: Future tense > habitual past: the case of Udmurt		Vito Pirrelli: Recurrent Neural Networks and Hebbian Learning in Word-and-Paradigm Lexical Modelling
15:00–15:30		Orsolya Tánczos: The antipassive -šk- in Udmurt		Gilles Boyé & Gauvain Schalchli: For a Realistic Derivation of Inflectional Paradigms
15:30–16:00		Timur Maisak: Endoclitics in Andi		Motoki Saito, Michael Ramscar & Harald Baayen: Exponential choice distributions and their consequences for language processing
16:00–16:30		Peter Arkadiev: Interrogative verbal paradigms in Abaza		Martin Schäfer & Melanie Bell: Interpreting novel compounds
16:30–17:00	B R E A K
17:00–17:30	Chair: Farrell Ackerman	Nikolett Mus: The Tundra Nenets interrogative verb		Workshop Poster Session: Florian Bogner & Petra B. Schumacher: Underspecified morpho-syntactic information: Evidence from incremental processing; Rusudan Gersamia & Nino Sharashenidze: Morphologization of the Modal Particle in the Kartvelian Languages
17:30–18:00		Louise Esher: Syncretism and metamorphemes in the diachrony of Lemosin varieties
18:00–18:30		Giuseppina Todaro and Juliette Thuilier: Rivalry between in- and a- prefixes in Italian verb formation		Concluding remarks and general discussion

May 12 (Sat)

	Building I – “Bence György” Lecture Hall		Building R5 – Lecture Hall 423
8:30–9:00	registration
9:00–10:00	Keynote 3 – Farrell Ackerman: Systemic Organization in Word-Based Morphology
10:00–10:30	Chair: András Cser	Gary Libben, Gonia Jarema: Morphological superstates and the processing of two-constituent words in the English and French		Darya Kavitskaya, Piibi-Kai Kivik, Öner Özçelik, Anne Tamm: Morphological aspects of Uralic and Turkic languages
10:30–11:00		Pius ten Hacken, Renáta Panocová: Process nouns based on -ation in English, German and Slovak		Polina Pleshak: Number-possessiveness-case affix order puzzle from Hill Mari
11:00–11:30	B R E A K
11:30–12:00	POSTER SESSION (see below for the list of posters)*			Éva Á. Csató: Turkic Postverbal Constructions (invited talk)
12:00–12:30				Birsal Karakoç: Ambiguous verbal predications in Noghay
12:30–13:00
13:00–14:30	L U N C H B R E A K
14:30–15:00	Chair: Pius ten Hacken	Karlina Denistia and R. Harald Baayen: Productivity and Paradigmatic Relations: A Corpus Based Analysis of Affix Substitution in Indonesian		Ayten Hajiyeva: On the role of the language contact factor in the processes of typological modification taken place in nominal and verbal paradigms of the Turkic languages: from the “Uyghur umlaut” to the reduction of possession affixes
15:00–15:30		Gayathri Krishnan and Vaijayanthi Sarma: Animacy and the Acquisition of Plural Markers in Malayalam		Daria Zhornik, Sophie Pokrovskaya: Allomorphy and dialectal variation in Northern Mansi nominal paradigms
15:30–16:00		Petr Hrach: Latin verbal affixes and their development from a functional perspective		Timofey Arkhangelskiy, Elena Sokur, Maria Usacheva: Non-verbal nominalization in Udmurt
16:00–16:30		Maria Rosenberg: The gradual development of complex nominal constructions in Swedish child language: Semantics and competition		Posters and Alternates for Oral presentations 16:00-17:00 Munevver Erdem Aksehirli: A Deponency-like Pattern in Turkish Inflectional Paradigms (Alternate 1) // Eduard Fomin: New phenomena in the morphology of the Chuvash language: the strongest form of the verb contraction // Vera Maltseva: Inflectional affixes in front of derivational affixes in Khakas // Barbara Kerovec, Kristina Katalinić: Typological relevance in the formation of the lexicon: The case of the concept of 'touch' in Turkish and Hungarian // Piibi-Kai Kivik, Anne Tamm: Morphological learning in L2 Estonian conversation
16:30–17:00	B R E A K
17:00–17:30	Chair: Géraldine Walther	Dimitra Melissaropoulou: Insights on the mechanisms underlying variation and change in the re-organization of nominal inflection: evidence from Propontis Tsakonian		Jaklin Kornfilt: Does Turkish Subextraction Involve Pseudo-Noun Incorporation or Noun Incorporation? (invited talk)
17:30–18:00		Paula Fenger and Gisli Runar Hardarson: Just take a number! On linking morphemes in Dutch		Svetlana Toldova: The nominal paradigms split and the size of extended nominal projection in Moksha
18:00–18:30		Marta Petrak and Ida Raffaelli: Morphosemantic structures in the prefixal-suffixal formation of Croatian adjectives: example of the prefix preko-

*Posters:

- Ingo Plag, Fabian Tomaschek, Mirijam Ernestus and Harald Baayen: How learning morpho-phonological relations affects phonetic encoding: Modeling the duration of morphemic and non-morphemic S
- Orit Ashkenazi, Ronit Levie, Maayan Shisman-Dagan, Dorit Ravid, Sabine Sommer-Lolei, Veronika Mattes, Katharina Korecky-Kröll and Wolfgang Dressler: Morphological sources of information on causativity in acquiring German versus Hebrew
- Isidora Gatarić, Sanja Srdanović and Anja Šarić: Would it be faster, slower or the same with additional morphemes? The (Non)-existence of the Decomposition in the Processing of Deverbal Nominals
- Isidora Gatarić: The processing of derived nouns without the decomposition: A Case of the Derived Nouns with Ambiguous Suffixes
- Matteo Pellegrini: Measuring inflection class segregation in Latin verb paradigms: an information theoretic approach
- Briana Van Epps, Gerd Carling and Yair Sapir: The role of morphology in gender assignment: A diachronic perspective from Scandinavia

19:00 – CONFERENCE DINNER BANQUET in the Main Building of the H.A.S.

May 13 (Sun)

	Building I – “Bence György” Lecture Hall		Building R5 – Lecture Hall 423
9:00–9:30	Chair: Fabian Tomaschek	Paul Kiparsky: Affix Bundling and Introfication		Marcel Schlechtweg, Introduction: The learnability of complex constructions from a cross-linguistic perspective
9:30–10:00		Raffaella Baechler: Paradigm levelling and reanalysis in Early Middle English		Hilary Wynne, Linda Wheeldon & Aditi Lahiri: Compounds and Phrases in Speech Production: The Learnability of Complex Structures by L2 English Speakers
10:00–10:30		Lucie Pultrová: Comparison and negation in Latin		Elena Nicoladis, Cross-linguistic influence in French-English and Welsh-English bilingual children
10:30–10:50	B R E A K
10:50–11:20	Chair: Fabio Montermini	Fabian Tomaschek, Benjamin V. Tucker and Harald Baayen: Vowel articulation in homophonous suffixed and unsuffixed stems – An investigation of anticipatory coarticulation in relation to articulatory practice		Madeleine Voga & Hélène Giraudo: Mental representation of prefixed cognates, non-cognates and ‘morphological cognates’: evidence from cross-script masked priming with Greek speakers of French (L2)
11:20–11:50		Sabine Arndt-Lappe and Quentin Dabouis: Secondary stress and morphological structure – new evidence from dictionary and speech data		Madeleine Voga, Georgia Nikolaou & Anna Anastassiadis-Symeonidis: Reading complex L2 words in context: Prefix conceptual salience in L2 acquisition
11:50–12:20		András Cser: Allomorphic variation resulting from competing phonological patterns
12:20–14:00	L U N C H B R E A K
14:00–14:30	Chair: Paul Kiparsky	Gilles Boyé: Information Theory and Morphology: some entropy caveats		Sendy Caffarra: The learnability of gender agreement in Spanish-Basque bilinguals and Spanish bimodal bilinguals
14:30–15:00		Matías Guzmán Naranjo: Proportional analogies in typed systems		Phaedra Royle, Lauren A. Fromont & Karsten Steinhauer: Acquisition and processing of a non-transparent gender system: Event-related brain potentials in French children
15:00–15:30		Tamas Biro: Optimality Theoretical morphology for hybrid grammars: Implementing Burzio’s Output-Output Faithfulness
15:30–15:50	B R E A K
15:50–16:20	Chair: Tamás Biró	Chiara Zanini, Giorgio Arcara, Rosa Rugani and Francesca Franzon: Does cognition structure Number paradigms? Insights from typology and an ERP study		Andrés Enrique-Arias: Morphological errors or innovative morphological pattern? The Spanish preterite of Catalan-dominant bilinguals in Majorca
16:20–16:50		Fabio Montermini and Giuseppina Todaro: Semantico-conceptual networks vs. derivational families. The case of denominal verbs in Italian		Hyun Jin Hwangbo: Investigating Lexical Representations and their Learnability with Artificial Grammar Learning
16:50–17:20		Laura Becker: The typology of article inflection		Gloria Ramirez, Adrian Pasquarella & Esther Geva: Transferability, “Teachability”, and Learnability of Morphological Awareness across Spanish, English, Chinese, and Secwepemctsin
17:20–17:30	Conclusion / Closing words			